ALLIES CAPTURE MAJOR PORTS & AIRFIELDS IN S.-W. SICILY

Syracuse & Licata Fall: Bitter Fight For Ragusa

ENEMY COLUMNS MOVE SOUTHWARD TOWARD ENGAGEMENT

LONDON: A communique issued at the Allied Headquarters in North Africa, announces the capture of Syracuse (the great Italian naval base on the east coast of Sicily). Avola, Pozallo, Ispica and Nolo.

Two thousand prisoners have been taken.

COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, (Monday): — Monday's 'communique' states: "Few details are available of the work of the navy. The task of disembarking landing troops and their supplies on all beaches continues according to plan. Defence areas near the coast town of Pozzalo, 12 miles westward of Cape Taranto on the railway line between Syracuse and Ragusa were bombarded last night by our destroyers. The surrender of Pozzallo was accepted by the Commanding Officer of a destroyer during early afternoon on Sunday.

All ground forces have continued to make good progress during the course of the day. Seven enemy counter-attacks which had been made with tanks have been repulsed, and at least 2,000 prisoners taken.

IMPORTANCE OF CAPTURE OF SYRACUSE AND LICATA

The news in Monday's official 'communique' means that the success of the Sicilian operation is assured. Syracuse and Licata both are provided with deep water harbours, where Allied transports will be able to unload heavy material direct on the quayside. Although the beaches hitherto used were serviceable for barges, all supplies so far have had to be transhipped and naturally this involved both delay and risk. With the harbours of Syracuse and Licata at their disposal it should be possible now to rush heavy materials ashore within minimum delay.

FIGHT FOR RAGUSA

The Algiers Radio said on Monday: "A bitter battle is raging for Ragusa near the south-east corner of Sicily. This town is defended by 30,000 Germans, under the command of Marshal Kesselring.

"Allied parachutists have been dropped west of Ragusa", the announcer said: "All operations are still going smoothly and according to plan.

New bridgeheads have been established near Gela and Licata.

The British troops who have captured the aerodrome at Pachino have joined hands with the Canadians at Cape Passero. Allied troops have also widened their bridgeheads in Sicily.

New invasion troops are being landed continuously.

ENEMY COLUMNS MOVE SOUTHWARDS

ALGIERS, (Monday):—It is clear from airforce reports that enemy columns are on a move southwards. One pilot reported packed convoys on many roads. The enemy is moving towards an engagement.

LONDON (Monday): Reuter's Military Correspondent states: "While there is every confidence in London that the Allied assault on Sicily has so far gone according to plan with losses on the light side, it is pointed out that it may be some time before the exact position of all our troops can be revealed. At this stage our advantage are in the nature of probes and until the enemy's mobile reserve has been brought to battle, it will be impossible to assess the position with any degree of certainty."

ALLIES USE TANKS AND AIRCRAFT CARRIERS

The Rome radio this morning said that Allied landing forces have already established artillery emplacements and are using tanks. The Allies are also using aircraft-carriers.

'MONTY' COMMANDS BR. FORCES

VALETTA: (Malta) Monday:—The man who led the famous British Army in North Africa, General Montgomery is now in command of the British forces in Sicily. This was officially revealed today. The statement named senior officers commanding the present combined operations in the Mediterranean under the Supreme Command of Gen. Eisenhower as follows: Commander-in-Chief, the Mediterranean Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham: Naval Commander Admiral Sir Betram Ramsay: Deputy Commander-in-Chief, Allied Forces, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander: Commander-in-Chief, British Forces Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery: Air Commander-in-Chief the Mediterranean Air Command, Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder: Naval Commander commanding the United States Naval Forces Vice-Admiral Henry K Hewitt: Commanding General American Forces, Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton: Commanding General North-west African Air Force, Lt.-Gen. Carl Spaatz: Commanding North-west Africa Tactical Air Force, Air Marshal Sir Arthur Conningham: Commanding General, the Strategic Air Force, Major-General James Doolittle: Air Officer Commanding North-west Africa Coastal Air Force, Air Vice-Marshal Sir Hugh P. Lloyd.

ENEMY MOVING TOWARDS AGRIGENTO

LONDON, (Monday): — Reuter's special correspondent at Allied Headquarters in North Africa cables:—An Allied hospital ship was sunk off the Sicilian coast on Saturday night by Axis bombers.

The ship was at anchor and fully lighted. The 400 wounded on board were successfully transferred to other vessels. Seven Axis counter-attacks supported by some 45 tanks have been repulsed and Allied progress is maintained. At one point the Italians put in a cavalry charge which was also repulsed. The enemy is regrouping his forces for attack and there is considerable movement in his forces from west to east especially towards Agrigento. The navy is still putting supplies and reinforcements ashore, despite increased air attacks. The population of the captured area is friendly to the Allies. The Allied casualties are slight.

OPPOSITION NOT STERN

LONDON. (Monday): — Reuter's special correspondent at Command Post: (Sunday—Delayed) cables: Allied planes were today operating from captured Sicilian airfields. So far the resistance that the Allied troops have met has not been stern, though German troops have been thrown in an endeavour to hold up the advance. The bridgehead several miles in depth is being held and several ports are now in Allied hands. British troops entered the important town and port of Syracuse at 21-00 last night. There was some fighting in the streets of the town and German troops tried to hold out in the barracks in the town but by dawn this morning this fighting had ceased and the Axis had been completely cleared from the town and port. On the southern coast equipment is already being unloaded at the ports of Licata and Gela which the Americans have captured.

The troops are meeting only light opposition so far. The civilian population is reacting well to the landings and co-operating in every way. More than 4,000 prisoners were taken yesterday and an Italian Coastal Regiment was virtually wiped out.

VALETTA, (Monday): To-day's official R.A.F. announcement stated: 'Malta's day and night fighters destroyed 27 enemy aircraft over Sicily and Southern Italy on Saturday night and yesterday, when again they gave air cover to the Allied invasion shipping and on Sicilian beaches.

TOWARDS CLIMAX

From Reuter's Special Correspondent—Algiers, (Monday) The second phase of the great Allied invasion of Sicily is now reaching its climax. As the Allied air forces batter the enemy and inflict tremendous damage on convoys which the Axis are hurrying along the winding and wreck-littered Sicilian roads, Allied heavy tanks are reported to be well inland and rumbling towards the interior. Military objectives towards Catania constitute a sea of flames, as a result of Allied air pounding and terrific toll has been taken of Axis convoys packed with men and materials.

The latest air reports are that Axis columns are on the move southwards. One pilot reported seeing packed convoys on many roads. Pilots returning from the invasion area tell of artillery duels in progress, of Allied warships shelling land positions, troopships forming a queue at all points and of Axis resistance still apparently not being very great.

GERBINI ATTACKED

Waves of German and Italian fighters vainly endeavoured to stem the massive concentrated weight of Allied attack being directed against Sciacca Milo and Gerbini. Gerbini is the most important of the network of air-bases in the Catania plain. The most important feature of the day's operations was mastery won in Sicilian skies by Allied fighter bombers. Swarms of Allied fighters and fighter bombers swooped down over highways and rail roads of eastern Sicily from dawn to dusk in non-stop strafing and dive-bombing. The biggest single attack was against a convoy of nearly 200 vehicles in Eastern Sicily, 100 of which were destroyed.

The Axis made more frequent attacks on Allied shipping, and Spitfires maintained ceaseless watch throughout the day and the shipping losses were negligible.

COUNTER-ATTACK AT GELA REPELLED

Earlier messages stated as under:—All the coast line along the 100-mile invasion front in Sicily is in Allied hands. They have set up regimental and divisional headquarters.

Pachino airfield, a few miles from Cape Passero has been captured. Two other airfields are now in Allied hands.

British forces which captured Pachino aerodrome made junction with the Canadians across Cape Passero.

British, American and Canadian troops have linked up along the 100-mile invasion front on the south-east coast of Sicily.

The bridgehead is on both the sides of Gela, almost due north of Malta, and is chiefly concentrated towards the south-east corner.

Great quantities of supplies and reinforcements are pouring in along the beaches to back up the offensive.

Two of the three captured airfields are in the area in which the Americans are advancing. The third lies in the Canadian British sector of the front where opposition is slightly heavier than further west.

The Allied troops are driving inland without risking the loss of their initial gains by fanning out too far.

MORE PARA TROOPS LAND IN SICILY

The Rome radio reports picked up by the National Broadcasting Corporation said that additional Allied parachute troops had landed on Sicily last night.

Reports from American air-men supporting the land forces on Sicily indicate that a heavy skirmish is taking place six to eight miles south of east Gela.

INTENSE ACTIVITY OF R.A.F.

'Dromes Raided And Planes Shot Down: 15 Enemy Attacks Beaten Off

Allied Headquarters in North-Africa: Monday's Allied air communique announces: "Enemy troops were violently attacked on Sunday during a day marked by intense activity of our fighter-bombers.

Numerous vehicles were destroyed. Our heavy bombers attacked essential communication centres at Catania. Medium bombers carried out raids against aerodromes used by the enemy. Our fighters continued their patrols over Allied land forces in the invaded sector.

Forty-five Axis planes were shot down during the day, and nine of our planes are reported to be missing from these operations".

While raiding marshalling yards and warehouses and storage areas at Catania the R.A.F. beat off 15 separate attacks by enemy fighters, shooting down seven.

'Liberators' Raid Italian Drome

CAIRO: Monday's Middle-East Air Communique announces: "Liberators of the Ninth United States Air Force attacked two aerodromes in Southern Italy in daylight on Sunday. At Reggio di Calabria bursts were seen upon the aerodrome surface and three large fires were started. In addition a number of large aircraft was left burning on the ground. One Messerschmitt 109 was destroyed in combat. Hangars were left on fire, administration buildings were damaged, and a three-engined aircraft set on fire, after an attack on Vibo Vilentia aerodrome. An attacking Messerschmitt 109 was destroyed.

R.A.F. light bombers attacked a force of Messerschmitt 109s South-west of Crete, and shot one into the sea in flames.

Reggio Di Calabria Drome Attacked

CAIRO, Monday.

Great damage was done by Liberators of the 9th United States air-force in their daylight attack on the Reggio di Calabria aerodrome on Sunday, says a communique issued at the 9th United States Air Force Headquarters.

The aerodrome, which is situated on the strait of Messina, is a base for the aerial defence of the important Sicilian ferry terminal. Liberators secured many hits with high explosive demolition bombs on hangars on the south and east side of the airfield, on barracks and among motor transport. Dispersal areas were well-covered with bursts. In the Liberators' daylight attack on Sunday on Vibo Valentia aerodrome, middle and west hangars were set on fire and smoke arose from the entire hangar area. Serious damage was done to administration buildings. "Strong formations of enemy fighters attempted to intercept our bombers. Of these two were destroyed and two others were damaged. All aircraft returned safely", says the communique.

The hearing of the Calcutta Mail Accident Case commenced here today before Mr. Gupta, Magistrate First Class, who recorded the evidence of four prosecution witnesses. The first witness Mr. Rao, Assistant Stationmaster in his examination in chief deposed that the signallers work on the block instrument but side instruments are exclusively operated by the A.S.M. according to rule and practice.

The third witness Kedernath (Porter), stated that he heard the accused Dave telling Jalil that one goods train was on the down line and after getting the line-clear from Borgaon, the Mail should be allowed to pass further. The witness said that he saw accused Jalil pulling the slit.

The fourth witness, Abdulla, (night patrol), then deposed.

The Court then rose for the day.—A. P.

STERNER FIGHTING EXPECTED

(From Reuter's Special Correspondent at advanced British Headquarters on Sunday—Delayed): The Allies have made excellent progress in consolidating the bridgeheads and getting guns, transport and other material ashore. The only substantial opposition was in the hills west of Noto. There are signs however, that the defence has recovered from its initial surprise. Sterner fighting may be expected soon.

First Defeat FOR Hidayatullah

Speaker Adjourns Sind Assembly 'Sine Die'

KARACHI, July 12.

Sir Ghulam Hussain Hidyatullah's Ministry sustained its first defeat when a motion from Mir Bundheali Khan Talpur (ex-Premier and a supporter of the present Ministry) that the consideration of the proposed revised land revenue assessment be adjourned till the next session was carried by 24 to 12 votes in the Sind Assembly this afternoon.

The Speaker adjourned the House 'sine die.'

RESULT OF SNAP VOTING

The abrupt conclusion of the resumed session of the Sind Assembly this afternoon was the result of a snap voting on a counter-motion by Mir Bundheali Khan Talpur seeking postponement of the consideration of the Revenue Minister's resolution. The original resolution moved by Khan Bahadur Khuro, Revenue Minister, requested that the revision settlement proposals for the barrage and non-barrage talukas under revision may be taken into consideration.

Mir Bundheali, a member of the Muslim League Party, stated that enough time had not been given to members to study the new proposals and he, therefore, prayed that the question may be postponed till the next session.

While six Ministers and four Parliamentary Secretaries and two European members comprised to-day's Government voting strength, a number of members belonging to Ministerial Party voted for the motion.—A. P.

TOOTHLESS RETALIATION

Delhi Consults Whitehall On S. African Pegging Legislation

NEW DELHI, July 11.

It is understood that retaliatory measures have been recommended by the Consultative Conference convened by Dr. N. B. Khare and these are under the consideration of the Government of India. A decision is likely to be announced in the forthcoming session of the Assembly.

It is believed that the British Government have been apprised of these recommendations, and the Government of India are waiting for the views of H.M.'s Government, before formulating their policy.

Informed circles point out that while the Central Government appreciate popular reaction to the Pegging Act, Government may not enforce trade sanctions or recall the High Commissioner as neither is considered practicable or advisable at the present war time conditions.

"Orient Press" understands that the recommendations made by the Delhi Leaders' Conference convened by the Overseas Member may not be given effect to in toto on account of the difficulties of the present situation when it is felt that the whole Empire should present a united front. It is gathered the Central Government will make all possible efforts to find out ways and means for representing effectively the popular feeling on the Pegging Act.—O.P.

4 POLICEMEN TO DIE FOR INHUMAN MURDER

Hope Of Reward For Dealing With Sabotage Leads To Shooting Of 3 Boys

NEW DELHI, July 10

Agreeing with the assessors, Mr. D. Falshaw, District and Sessions Judge of Delhi, convicted four members of the armed police of the murder of three boys by shooting and sentenced them to death.

According to the prosecution story the accused were on duty to guard railway lines on the night of October 30/31, 1942. They caught hold of four boys who were stealing coal on the railway line near Kishan Ganj railway station and took them towards Ghaziabad along the railway line in order to produce them before military officers.

On reaching the Silampore level crossing, beyond the Jumna bridge, the boys were lined up and shot at point-blank range.

One boy, Mohammed Din, who managed to escape, told the court that they fell at the accused's feet and begged for mercy but were fired at. Two boys dropped dead and the third staggered. Mohammed Din caught hold of him and, using him as a shield fell on one side. He held his breath and pretended he was dead.

Just then a goods train came and stopped because the bodies were lying on the railway track. The engine driver began talking with the accused. Seizing the opportunity, Mohammed Din escaped towards a village. Later, passing through unfrequented paths, and swimming across the Jumna, he reached his house in Delhi.

The accused told their officers at Ghaziabad the next morning that they had shot down three persons as they had smashed the lights and the gates at the level crossing.

Dealing with the motive for the murder the learned judge remarked that the main argument of the accused was the improbability of the prosecution story. The theory of the prosecution appeared to be that the accused shot the deceased partly to avoid the possibility of the charge of unnatural offence and partly to win rewards and possible promotion.

On this, defence counsel relied on the statement of the Platoon Commander to the effect that no reward had been promised beforehand to the Special Armed Constabulary for dealing with sabotage, but at the same time, it would appear probable that rewards and promotions were expected by them in case they distinguished themselves.

The Platoon Commander had stated that rewards of Rs. 50 to Naik Ram Singh and Rs. 20 to each of the three other accused had actually been ordered to be paid for their conduct on October 31. This, of course, happened before any proper inquiry had been held.

Although the motive appeared to be inadequate for the inhuman conduct attributed to the accused, it would appear to be adequate in the eyes of the accused themselves.—Associated Press.

BYELGOROD FRONT:

Panzers Strike At Many Points

But Nazis Fail To Enlarge Positions Since Saturday

LONDON, July 12.

From Reuter's special correspondent, Moscow:—Attack and counter-attack follow in rapid succession at the tip and base of the Byelgorod wedge. The Germans yesterday repeated in great force their attempts started on Saturday to enlarge their positions. The outcome of the past two days' fighting is somewhat obscure but there is no indication of any territorial change since Friday.

Led by 'Tiger' tanks the spearheads of German Panzer groups have attacked numerous points. They often penetrated up to Soviet gunsites where Soviet gunners and German tanks were shooting it out at short range, as if fighting with giant nightmare revolvers.

Record Nazi Tank Losses

LONDON, July 12.

"Hitler is losing an average of one tank every three or four minutes—twelve times the rate of the battle for Moscow when in 20 days at the end of 1941 he lost 777 tanks," says the Moscow Radio's military commentator on Sunday night.

The Moscow radio says: "On Saturday night strong forces of Soviet long-range aircraft raided the railway junction of Byelgorod.

ENEMY ATTACKS REPELLED

Last night's communique says: On July 11 Soviet troops in the Orel-Kursk and Byelgorod directions continued to repel attacks of enemy tanks and infantry.

On July 11 in the Orel-Kursk and Byelgorod directions our troops destroyed or damaged 162 enemy tanks.

In aerial engagement and by anti-aircraft fire 31 German planes were shot down."

ALL GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL

A supplement to to-night's Soviet 'communique' states, that in the Orel-Kursk direction the Germans sent into action simultaneously almost 400 tanks and large forces of infantry but this and subsequent German attacks all failed.—Reuter.

PLEA FOR HUMANITY

There has been a considerable falling off in the release of Congress detenus for some days past, and, on the other hand, arrests continue to be made for such "subversive" activities as joining a procession or a flag salutation ceremony or some such Congress function. It almost appears as if over-full jails were being partially cleared to make room for fresh prisoners. If the suspicion is baseless the Provincial Governments concerned may say so and publish figures about the persons released and those still in jail. In any case it appears that a considerable number of Congressmen are likely to remain prisoners for an indefinite number of time. If so the Governments concerned may be so kind as to show them a little more humanity than they have done so far. A few of the prisoners are now past all human help and it may be useless to discuss now how they came by their end and how they might have been saved, though the case of Ramesh Chandra, a prisoner in the Aligarh Jail, whose dead body was found "in a nearby well" deserves fuller investigation than has been made so far. A few others are released when they are almost on death-bed. Apart from death and sickness the condition of many prisoners and of their families is miserable. Most of the prisoners are poor and were the principal, if not sole, bread-earners of their families. When they were seized and jailed, their families were virtually thrown on the street. In most cases the families are not given any allowance nor are they allowed interviews with the prisoners. Instancing the case of a mother and a one-year-old child who were in a U.P. jail till the other day, the "Hindustan Times" points out how the child's brother addressed a petition to the Government to be allowed to see the mother and to carry a patent food for the baby. The reply received by the boy was: "Reference his petition praying that he may be permitted to see his infant brother in jail and to deposit for his use certain articles of food, Mr. Hirday Nath Agarwal is informed that the Governor has rejected his petition." Prohibiting interviews between prisoners and their relations is aptly described as a "social crime" by the Frontier Minister for Jails. But such crimes are still numerous in India.

Indiscriminate arrests and detention of persons without a trial and drastic treatment of the detenus in jail was perhaps understandable at a time when the country was or believed by Government to be in a state of rebellion. But the continuation of such a regime any longer would be inexcusable vindictiveness. And if cruelty is coupled with an attempt to wring undertakings from the detenus, it will be nothing short of third degree methods. In the interests of humanity and justice we would again urge upon Government that all those who have been so long detained without a trial should now be either released or tried before a suitable tribunal. If at all any persons have to be detained without a trial, the least that Government should do by way of amends for this outrage on justice is to give maintenance allowance to the families of the detenus, particularly to poor families whose bread-winners the detenus were: The "Tribune" published a few days ago the pathetic story of an eleven year old boy of Lahore whose mother has long been a bed-ridden invalid, whose elder brother is down with tuberculosis of the intestines, and whose eldest brother, Prof. Ram Kumar, the only support of the family, has been in detention under the D.I. Rules for the last ten months. "We have now no one", says the boy in an appeal to the public, "to earn a livelihood for us. I am in great distress. I have to attend to my ailing mother and brother. I am in my tender age incapable of bearing the burden. Can anyone help our family by getting our breadwinner released?" There are numerous other cases of families rendered destitute by Government's policy of repression. Where the suffering is the result of detention without a trial, it is the most elementary duty of Government either to release the detenus or to give a maintenance allowance to their families.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Significant Reinforcements

A communique from General Chennault's headquarters reads thus: "The largest formation of Liberator bombers of the 14th United States Air Force ever to operate from Chinese bases sank a Japanese freighter of about 8,000 tons and left a smaller ship sinking during a heavy attack on Thursday on Haiphong.....". It is good news not because Haiphong has been attacked—the town has been visited a number of times by General Chennault's aircraft—but because it announces that heavy and long range Liberators are now in operation from China and, what is most welcome, it suggests that the 14th Air Force has recently been receiving considerable reinforcements. This naturally brings us to the Berlin report that "U. S. Air bases at Lungling and Liangshan have been reinforced with planes and petrol supplies" for a new attack on Japanese mainland. Let us hope this is true, provided the attack is sustained. For, otherwise a solitary raid or so on Japan will only result in more sufferings for the Chinese.

Polish Cabinet Reconstruction

If Reuters have reported correctly the conditions under which M. Stanislaw Mikolajczyk would be willing to accept the post of Polish Prime Minister, two things emerge clearly from them: First, that he is a solid democrat and second, that there is an element of anti-democratic ministers and other leaders in the Polish Government sufficiently important for M. Mikolajczyk to demand guarantees against them. It almost appears as if the President himself is regarded as inclining towards this element. But since M. Mikolajczyk has been asked to form a Government, it may be assumed that his conditions have been accepted. This is welcome news. And it is particularly so because a man like the present Polish Premier, is supported by a democratic Cabinet, can contribute a great deal towards a satisfactory solution of the Russo-Polish trouble. And if he meets with opposition from any group of reactionary leaders, Poland's Anglo-American Allies can, with democratic justification, intervene in his support.

Middle East Moves

The Vichy Radio, quoting reports from Ankara, says that "the Turkish-Syrian frontier has been closed again because of troop movements in Syria." Is this action intended merely to add to the nervous discomforts of Il Duce and his Fascists or is there more to it? German sources report large Allied concentrations in the Middle East and suggest that the Mediterranean area has been divided into American and British zones, the responsibility of the former being North-West Africa and that of the latter the Middle East. This is not quite correct. The Canadians and the British are taking a prominent part in the invasion of Sicily. But the Middle East Army ought to move soon. Perhaps, it will wait for the Sicilian operations to develop further before it strikes.

Stimson In London

Widespread interest has naturally been aroused by the arrival in London of Mr. Henry Stimson, the American Secretary for War, within a few days of the launching of the Allied assault on Sicily. He has not gone direct from America to Algiers which is the headquarters of the Allied Invasion Army. But that can be understood because London is the centre of the grand strategy against Hitler's Europe. The question is whether Mr. Stimson's visit signifies anything more in the way of immediate operations. Does it, in other words, indicate an assault in the near future on Western Europe from Britain? It is an interesting speculation.

SIR C. P. SAYS

"SHE KNEW HOW TO MANAGE JINNAH"

MADRAS, July 12

"If to-day India, and in generality the people in India have a feeling of self-vindication and of self-respect and of a sentiment that Indian life, Indian Art, Indian outlook, Indian philosophy, do matter in the world, that feeling and that sentiment are entirely the work of two individuals, Dr. Besant and Mahatma Gandhi," observed Sir C. P. Ramaswami Iyer, Dewan of Travancore. Speaking on "Dr. Annie Besant—her work and life work" at the Cosmopolitan Club, he added that the present popular appeal for politics was largely due to the work of Dr. Besant as a politician.

He then dealt with the formation of the Home Rule League, and said Dr. Besant brought together people of differing views like Pandit Motilal Nehru, Mr. Jinnah and Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and others. Dr. Besant managed Mr. Jinnah, because she knew how to manage men.—A. P.

National Debt Surpasses National Income

NEW YORK, July 12.

The "New York Herald Tribune" said to-day that the end of the fiscal year 1943 revealed that the United States National Debt for the first time in American History surpassed the annual national income. The Government closed the fiscal year with a debt of approximately 137 milliard dollars, which compares with the estimated annual national income of 135 milliard dollars.

NO CONFIDENCE VOTE AGAINST STUDENTS' UNION EXECUTIVE

BOMBAY, Monday.

The Marwari Vidyalaya Hall was packed to capacity with students this evening when a resolution of no-confidence against the Executive Committee of the Bombay Students' Union (Harvey Road branch) was passed by an overwhelming majority of about 800 against 1.

Mr. K. M. Desai presided.

The main resolution that as "the present Executive Committee of the Bombay Students' Union had lost the confidence of the General Body of the Bombay Students' Union, it ceased to exist henceforth", was moved by Mr. Sushil Daru. Mr. Daru said: "We must unite to smash the dictatorial arrogance of these Communists, who have disgraced the student movement".

By another resolution the following Provisional Committee was appointed: Messrs. S. K. Paleja, D. M. Parikh, C. B. Master, Adi Varerkar, Damu Jhaveri, Amil Mavani, Vasant Nargolkar, J. M. Parikh, Miss Anjani Mehta, Miss Nirupama Mehta, Mr. Manu Damania and Mr. Atul Mehta.

'SHEER WASTE OF TIME'

Dr. Kitchlew On Srivastava's Move To Hold A.I.C.C. Meeting

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

LAHORE, July 12.

"To my mind it would be sheer waste of time and energy to hold a meeting of the A.I.C.C. without participation of or at least consultation with responsible leaders locked in jail", said Dr. Saefuddin Kitchlew, Congress leader, while commenting on the efforts of Mr. Gopinath Srivastava for holding a meeting of the A.I.C.C.

There is no occasion, he continued, for holding such a meeting, particularly when Government is determined to keep the most responsible leaders behind bars. Any such attempt at this juncture is likely to do more harm than good to the country's cause.

Dr. Kitchlew added that the August resolution had never been put into practice. In fact Gandhiji and the Congress were not given any time to take any step in pursuance of the resolution. Therefore it is absurd to saddle Gandhiji and the Congress Committee, with responsibility for events that took place after the arrest of the Congress leaders.

K. M. Munshi Pleads For Collective Thinking

BOMBAY, July 11.

Mr. K. M. Munshi has issued the following statement:—

"My statement in the Press, stressing the need for collective thinking on the part of the nationalists in the country, has attracted comments favourable, critical and angry. In view of the high tension under which India is living at present, it is but natural that some people should read into it not what it said, but what they liked or feared to find.

"But it is recognized that for want of some meeting ground for Congressmen and Congress-minded men who are not in jail, thousands of workers all over the country have lapsed into inactivity, that constructive work like "khadi" and village work remains unattended to; and that no concerted action for relieving the immediate distress of the nation, particularly in the matter of the terrible food crisis through which the country is passing, has been possible. The need for evolving temporary organised activity on the part of workers all over the country has thus become imperative, when the indications of British policy, including the appointment of Field Marshal Wavell as Viceroy, clearly show that India is going to be a long term base for Anglo-American armies to fight the Japanese.

"After anxious thought I have felt convinced that the suffering which is in store for our country must take precedence over all other causes, and it is the paramount duty of all Nationalists in the country to combine their forces in order to evolve an organised activity which would reach our countrymen even in villages in the days of their coming distress.

"If I could I would like to invite the British to call off the political strife which they have forced on this country and harness all national activities to the great humanitarian work before us. But if Britain does not listen that is no reason why we should not achieve some result by collective action. What that action is, can best be decided by collective wisdom. For me one step is quite enough. I appeal to the Nationalists from all parts of the country to bring that collective wisdom to bear upon the realities through which we are passing today."

Plea For More Representation For Consumers On Textile Control Board

After a debate of over an hour on Monday the Municipal Corporation passed the resolution of Mr. D. V. Pradhan to request the Government to reconstitute the Textile Control Board so as to give adequate representation to the consumers.

Mr. K. F. Nariman supporting the resolution expressed his surprise that while Government had imposed control over every conceivable article, such as steel, iron, rubber, grain etc., they had not imposed control on cloth. He suggested that either Government should impose control or there should be preponderating representation of the consumers on the Textile Control Board.

Mr. Ramdeo Poddar said there were 25 members on the Textile Control Board, out of whom two represented Labour, two represented Consumers and one represented Growers. The representation of the consumers, he thought, was therefore, adequate.

Mr. Jamnadas Mehta said there were members on the Board who had already fleeced the consumers very mercilessly in the last four years.

Mr. R. K. Tatnis also supported the proposition.

Mr. M. R. Masani then moved an amendment protesting against the over representation of the vested interest on the Textile Board and requesting the Government to reconstitute the Board so as to give adequate representation to the masses of the consumers.

The amendment was passed as a substantive proposition.

DEARNESS ALLOWANCE TO EMPLOYEES

On the recommendation of the Standing Committee, Raja Bahadur Govindlal Shivlal moved the proposition to grant dearness allowance to municipal employees of Rs. 14 per month drawing as far as Rs. 214 per month.

The Municipal Commissioner explained that on the 1st January, 1943, a grain compensation allowance of Rs. 10 was granted to the municipal employees which would absorb Rs. 29 lakhs. If the rate was increased to Rs. 25 p.m. it would require Rs. 75,52,000. The municipal resources were limited and the revenue has not increased as a result of war conditions. In view, however, of the fact, that cost of living had increased since then, he recommended a maximum increase of Rs. 14 p.m. to municipal employees drawing a salary of Rs. 200 p.m. He further recommended that the municipal employees whose emoluments exceed Rs. 200 p.m. but not Rs. 214 p.m. may also be granted such allowance. The total liability by this increase would be Rs. 38,67,787.

Mr. D. V. Pradhan moved an amendment to accept the proposal and to request the Standing Committee to increase the allowance to Rs. 16 p.m. which was agreed to.

Dr. J. A. Collaco was in the chair.

Vow Of An American Soldier

Mr. B. F. Bharucha writes:

"I will work; I will save; I will sacrifice; I will endure; I will fight cheerfully and do my utmost; as if the whole struggle depended on me alone." This is a quotation from a letter of an American soldier, who was killed in action against Japan. It is given by Ambassador Grew in his Report from Tokio, and is featured by the "Nineteenth Century and After". What a vow! And what a fine ideal!

"MUNSHI TRIES TO STOKE THE FIRES"

Mrs. Jaishriben Raiji, Messrs. J. C. Maitra, R. K. Achrekar, S. V. Sovani, H. R. Pardiwala, Kashiprasad Singh, V. B. Worliker and Thaman Singh have issued the following:

When a few days ago, Mr. Gopinath Srivastava issued a statement from the United Provinces canvassing support for the idea of convening a meeting of the handful of A.I.C.C. members who are out of prison to withdraw the resolution of August 1942, no newspaper or Congressman took any notice of it; and it seemed that this ill-conceived effort was still-born. Mr. K. M. Munshi has now attempted to stoke the fires by seeking to support the move

Lest silence be misconstrued to mean consent, we would like to give expression to the feelings of resentment against such a move of large numbers of Congressmen who are still in prison as well as those who have, in Mr. Munshi's phrase, "returned from war."

CASUISTRY WON'T CHANGE FACTS

All casuistry notwithstanding, the facts are clear enough. It was the full meeting of the A.I.C.C. which by an overwhelming majority endorsed the August resolution which in its turn gave all powers to Gandhiji to act in pursuance of it. Gandhiji has since then been invited both by the British Government and by Mr. Jinnah to retract that resolution, and he has refused to do so. He alone can, in consultation with the Working Committee, take such a step. In the light and knowledge of these facts, for Mr. Srivastava to suggest that the rump of a score or so of the A.I.C.C. members is competent to suspend that resolution is to say the least ill-advised and undisciplined.

Such unfortunate moves, instead of improving morale as is sought to be argued, only tend to spread demoralisation and confusion among Congressmen, the great bulk of whom have the same confidence in Gandhiji's leadership as they have always had and need no gratuitous advice from those who have shown lack of such confidence.

Sami Venkatachalam Supports Munshi

MADRAS, July 9.—"I entirely and wholeheartedly support the plan of action adumbrated in the statement of Mr. K. M. Munshi, and my humble services are at the disposal of such a scheme in this part of the country," says Mr. Sami Venkatachalam Chetty, M. L. A. (Central), in a statement to the Press. "This has been the idea which has been troubling me for the past six months and more. I hope no further time is lost in dissecting constructive and tactical schemes; all that may be reserved until all Congressmen outside the jails and all Congressminded men assemble and confer. I beg my countrymen to look sharp and forward."—United Press.

the Land Development Officer to be leased to cultivators of land within the large experimental works. More money is also to be found to increase the grants paid to, or to assure in future the full cost of the valuable activities of, the Sub-Committee of the Bombay Relief Committee under Mr. Mankar in respect of its mass feeding centres and cattle loan scheme.

A large amount of fodder has been imported into the district and further purchases are being made by the Collector. Of this, the grass is being sold at less than cost price, and some will be supplied to the Relief Committee at a further large reduction. In addition, many wells have been deepened by subsidies granted to cultivators on the condition that they grow a fixed minimum amount of fodder.

SEED PURCHASE

Special Officer for the purchase of seed has already bought the 'kharif' requirements and distribution is being made. He will be able to purchase the full 'rabi' requirements except for wheat, the deficit of which will be replaced by 'rabi jowari' seed.

For the provision and distribution of food, some 70 centres have been opened in the large towns and villages. Rationing by means of family cards is in force in the towns of Bijapur, Bagalkot and Guledgud and in an appreciable number of villages. The Collector, in consultation with the Food Control Department, is working out a scheme for more effective distribution and to provide for the more special needs of persons on scarcity works or doles and of the agriculturists.

The military authorities have rendered most timely help by placing a fleet of some 60 lorries at the disposal of the Collector.

An early supply of the latest standard cloth in the form of 30,000 sarees was sent to the district during June.

BOMBAY RELIEF COMMITTEE

The excellent work that has been undertaken by the Bombay Relief Committee is well-known to the public and is being carried out in the closest co-operation with the District Authorities.

WHAT GOVT. HAS DONE IN BIJAPUR

Famine Relief Works And Difficulties

The Director of Information, Bombay, writes:

In the famine-stricken region of Bijapur, the following steps have been taken by the Government of Bombay in the past two months:

More than Rs. 85 1/2 lakhs have already been spent or sanctioned. Of this sum, the largest amount —Rs. 30,45,500—is for the supply of seed and fodder. A loss of Rs. 18,00,000 has been incurred in supplying food grains below cost price and Rs. 18,97,240 represent 'tagavi' advances. Relief works are costing Rs. 11,39,000, gratuitous relief Rs. 3,60,000, subsidies Rs. 2,85,400 and land development projects subsidised from the Sir Cusrow Wadia Trust Fund Rs 30,500.

At present there are about 60,000 persons working on 36 P.W.D. relief works, 7,000 on D.L.B. works and 21,000 on land development (bunding), while there are about 54,000 receiving doles.

Although some of these persons are returning to their fields for the 'kharif' season, it is estimated that it will be necessary to provide for 100,000 on relief works until October.

Means of making this provision and of intensifying relief measures in general were discussed by the Revenue Adviser during a recent visit to the District. Four heads of Departments and officers on special duty including the Chief Engineer, the Director of Agriculture, the Livestock Expert, the Commissioner of the Southern Division and the Superintending Engineer, were there at the same time and, after a three days' tour, a conference was held with local officials and non-officials.

FOR PERMANENT BENEFIT

It was decided that land improvement works, which offer the best opportunity for permanent improvement and avoidance of scarcity in the future, should be intensified. With this policy in view Land improvement works and other works will be spread over every part of the district on the basis of providing for 50,000 persons in each case.

Land development work has assumed large proportions since a Special Officer was appointed in February. In addition to some 20 village development projects and block-bunding schemes, about 18,000 acres have been bunded under large experimental works. The latter are being executed at the cost of the Government and, in addition to contour bunding, are providing for the afforestation of the upper slopes. In one such work covering 10,000 acres, more than 600 miles of bunds have been constructed.

The main difficulty has been to find overseers and surveyors for so many works when the P.W.D. is engaged on many works for the Defence Department. Several such officers have been transferred to Bijapur from other districts; and, following the Adviser's visit, 25 more will be provided for land development works. This will make it possible to employ 30,000 more persons on land development projects.

FAMINE RELIEF CODE HAMPERED

The same difficulty of staff, in addition to the scarcity of local materials, has attended the application of the full provisions of the Famine Relief Code on P.W.D. works.

The problems of earlier payment of wages and shortage of tools were fully dealt with during the Adviser's visit and every attempt will be made further to implement the provisions of Code. A special order for tools is being placed through the Supply Department and levelling instruments are being manufactured at the Dapuri Workshops.

FOR CATTLE

Special funds provided for the purchase of cattle are to be supplemented so that cattle may be purchased and placed at the disposal of

TÊTE-À-TÊTE

WITHOUT COMMENT

LONDON, July 10.

The Viceroy-Designate of India, Field-Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell, said to Indian trainees in London on Saturday "I have spent some of the best and pleasantest years of my life in India. I have great love for the country, and I hope in the new post with which I have been honoured to do something to repay the debt I owe to India. I shall do my best."

* * *

An Anglo-Indian contemporary invites Congressmen to resume office and constitutional action and "then all 'repression' will automatically stop."

How very wonderful and true, too? For, all Congressmen have to do is to apologise abjectly for somebody else's sins and promise to be good loyal boys out of, and in, office and all 'repression' will most certainly automatically stop.

According to the Chinese Consul in Bombay, it is sheer faith in the destiny of China that has kept the Chinese from losing hope.

The respected Chinese diplomat shouldn't say such things. They imply such a friendly non-recognition of aid by China's Allies.

And they are extremely dangerous in India.

* * *

The Consul also stated that China had faith in India and her cause.

This is hardly a return for the er--er—we mean for what Britain is determined to do for China in the undetermined future in addition to what she has actually been doing.

And the Consul made matters worse by talking of Sino-Indian co-operation to create a better Asia.

What better, Asia?

No, he shouldn't say such things.

It is reported that when he launched his great assault General Eisenhower rubbed several times seven gold coins for luck.

We would rub several more times if we had a single one.

Mr. Savarkar says that "Hindu interests in different provinces require different tactics to be adopted."

And he is up to all of them!

"Freedom for India is not enough by itself", said Mr. Bevin in an address to Indian engineers.

Of course, not. They must have Defence of India Rules as well!

* * *

"I look forward to the fullest co-operation between the peoples of Great Britain and India," said Mr. Bevin.

And then he gave them a slogan, "look forward and not backward."

But, suppose, they did look backward, Mr. Bevin?

Rice Scarcity

I wonder whether Government felt anything when they announced the shortage of rice—a further cut in the quota of rice on the card and the increased rate of Rs. 2 for sort I and Re. 1 for the II sort. This will be a hard blow for an average man who will have but to buy the II sort of rice—mixed with stones and corn—which was formerly sold at 0-14-6 per paylee.

VALIDITY OF SPECIAL COURTS ORDINANCE CHALLENGED

(Before the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha)

J. N. Pendharkar, Applicant (Original Accused) vs. Imperator.

The applicant had been sentenced to imprisonment for an aggregate term of seven years and a fine of Rs. 100 by the Special Judge of Satara for burning a railway station in December last.

The applicant approached Their Lordships in Revision challenging the validity of the Ordinance validating sentences passed by Special Courts constituted under the Special Criminal Courts Ordinance which has been declared invalid by the Federal Court.

Their Lordships issued a Rule and the matter will now come up for argument in due course.

Mr. P. B. Gajendragadkar appeared for the petitioner.

Their Lordships also admitted two other similar revision applications on behalf of other accused.

HARWOOD LEAGUE

Royal Navy Bag Two Points

Playing much better football than their opponents, the Royal Navy snatched away both the points from the B.B. and C.I. Railway in the first Division of the Harwood League on Monday. Bipdle scored one goal in the first half and Din Fen added two to the tally in the second, thus registering a win by three goals to nil.

GLASS WORKERS GET INCREMENT

The Secretary Indian Federation of Labour writes:—

The Bombay glass workers have organised their "Glass and Enamel Workers' Union," and agitated to secure immediate demands. The Union had given 14 days' notice to go on strike if the demands were not conceded. The following terms had been offered through the Commissioner of Labour, to which the Union has given approval for the time being:—

(1) 25 per cent increase in basic wages or Rs. 7-8 increase whichever is greater. (2) reinstatement of all victimised workers; and (3) bonus to be paid in consultation with the Union.

LOSS TO JAIN COMMUNITY

(From A Correspondent.)

BHINASAR, Sunday.

A learned Saint of Jain Samaj and preacher of Ahmsa and Khaddar, Munishri Jawahirlalji Maharaj expired to-day. Bombay Sthanakwasi Jain Conference expressed deep sorrow on his sudden demise.

MALAYALEE CONFERENCE: A meeting of the Reception Committee of the All-Malayalee Conference, Bombay, will be held today (Tuesday) at 9 p.m. at the office of the Keraleeya Samajam, (Plot 81, 2nd Street, Hindu Colony), Dadar.

The Half-Column "By Dim"

Bits and pieces of information have trickled into this office in the shape of tit-bits on the working of our "great" propaganda machine. So successful, it is said, was one of the publications of the External Affairs Department, intended to give the Afghans the right way of thinking that two editions of this publication were thrown clean out of Afghanistan, because the Afghans resented pictures of women without veils. So much beautiful paper out of India's quota was wasted. However, nothing worried the Hush-Hush Department of Caroe and Wheeler and they tried the same stunt on other Muslim countries. In the meantime they brought out a new publication for the Afghans—complete with gardens and babies, but no women!

* * *

"Le Clairon" tackled the Arabs in a less conservative way. In the office of the External Affairs Department they refer to this (their own publication as "Bosoms and Battlesnips", which more or less sums up the pamphlet.

* * *

There are other interesting revelations but I leave these to be tackled by the LAST PAGE of the "Sunday Chronicle"—and you'll get it next Sunday.

* * *

Sir Sultan Ahmed will be in town sometime to-day. He is to be chaperoned on his Bombay visit by the Controller of Broadcasting, Mr. A. S. Bokhari. The fact that Sir Sultan is meeting the editors on the Quattorze Juillet is only coincidental. Likewise there is no truth in the rumour that the editors are going to suggest to him that FAB (or rather IFI) should produce an Indian version of "The Moon is Down."

Destroy the FIFTH COLUMN

Have your invoices got two separate 'amount' columns? How often is it essential to use both?

You can save as much as 25% of the paper on your invoice by destroying this fifth column.

Examine all your stationery, eliminate superfluous peace-time "frills" and help to save paper in the present emergency.

Every business concern, whether grocers' store, or industrial giant, needs paper to function smoothly.

Ensure that need now, by saving on existing stock.

There is an acute paper shortage. Your attention is drawn to the following methods of avoiding waste of paper :-

- Use the smallest sheet of paper for any purpose that will do the job.
- Write, type and print on both sides of the paper. For short letters, bills and accounts reduce the size of the paper.
- Do not make copies except where absolutely necessary.
- Always type single spacing.
- In all cases (letters, commercial printing jobs and pamphlets, etc.) curtail margins.
- Reduce the size of labels on manufactured goods.
- Use the back of the letters received for the carbon copy of your replies.
